Mission Statement

Our mission in Liberal Arts is to instill students with knowledge about the interconnectedness of global systems and cultures, a perspective of the planetary scale within which we reside, and a sense of curiosity about the world. We equip students for engaged global citizenship and the creation of a more inclusive and just society through the power of art, design, and critical thinking to change the world and transform media products and brand experiences into innovative and inclusive industry practice.

Student Learning Outcomes

The liberal arts education competencies outlined below are the intended outcomes that all students should attain by the time they graduate from Ringling College. Students have multiple opportunities to develop and demonstrate these abilities as creators, communicators and collaborators.

SLO1- (Written Communication) Employ effective written communication strategies to articulate ideas or thinking clearly within a multitude of genres and media.

SLO2- (Critical Thinking) Apply critical thinking through the use of evidence-based reasoning to drive informed decisions.

SLO3- (Scientific and Quantitative Literacy) Interpret quantitative evidence and scientific reasoning from a range of perspectives in everyday contexts and situations.

SLO4- (Integrative Learning and Problem Solving) Synthesize and integrate learning from across multiple disciplines in the process of problem solving to answer a complex question or achieve a desired outcome.

SLO5- (Cultural and Historical Global Contexts) Evaluate the complexities of interconnected cultural and historical global systems.

SLO6- (Critical Information Literacy) Evaluate and analyze information and examine its cultural, ethical, economic, legal, and social uses in the many mediums in which it is shared.

SLO7- (Teamwork Skills) Demonstrate applied teamwork skills through collaboration with faculty and fellow students, including the ability to value multiple perspectives from diverse backgrounds.

SLO8- (Diversity and Inclusion) Understand the growing importance of intersectional diversity in cultivating a more inclusive world.
