

ARTH 326 : Women in Film

Examines films with regard to the representation of women on screen as well as films directed by women, including their contributions to film history. The course includes perspectives on Hollywood practices and their impact on the depiction of women. It will also include independently produced films and international films.

Credits 3

Studio Hours 0

Lecture Hours 3

Prerequisites

None.